Our Women's and Small Business Accelerator Programs are free online workshop series for entrepreneurs interested in launching a business. The workshop series equips them with the tools needed to launch and run a profitable business. Participants will receive training and coaching to develop their ideas into viable business plans. Upon completion of the programs, eligible participants have the opportunity to apply for a small business loan through the ACCESS Community Capital Fund.

The role of the session trainers is to develop and present specialized content related to small business. Topics are geared to new and small business entrepreneurs and individuals with limited to no business training. Responsibilities include preparing and delivering a 2-hour workshop that is educational and engaging.

ACCESS provides input to our workshop volunteers on general training topics that would be relevant to the needs of our clients. We, however, welcome the expertise of each volunteer to develop and design individual training sessions.

Related Skills & Experience:

- Experience as an entrepreneur, small business owner/advisor or with a business environment
- Experience delivering business or financial workshops/webinars for small businesses and the general public would be an asset.
- Strong communication, interpersonal & networking skills.
- Public speaking and presentation.
- Experience working with diverse cultural and socio-economic groups.
- Second language an asset.

Commitment: Will vary based on needs and availability. Workshop presenters can expect to participate in two or more presentations per year.
